The Observer.

A short time before Dr. Osler's name came to be on all our tongues as a result of his views regarding the forty-year and sixty-year way-marks in human life, there fell into the Observer's hands a little volume by this distinguished physician, entitled "Science and Immortality." Last year Dr. Osler delivered the lecture at Harvard on the George Goldthwaite Ingersoll foundation, and it is this lecture that forms the content of this little volume. Last summer when it was first announced that Dr. Osler was preparing a lecture on the subject of immortality, the Observer mentioned the fact to a local physician. The latter remarked in effect that a physician's sphere is medicine and surgery and that he had better leave the handling of theological and philosophical questions to those competent to deal with them. This is no doubt saying too much, but, Dr. Osler himself in his introductory remarks betrays similar misgivings, and the Observer is strongly tempted to conclude that the misgivings are justified by the result. Nevertheless it is instructive to learn the attitude towards the question of immortality of men whose habits of thought have been formed chiefly in the domain of physical sciences. It is instructive, but not very inspiring. One seems to read beween the lines that the intellectual atmosphere and associations in the midst of which Dr. Osler has been spending his life have been hostile or indifferent to a faith in immortality. Perhaps if the author were less than forty years of age, he might be aware of the fact that scientific thought is very far from being entirely materialistic and agnostic, and that it is becoming less so every year.

It must not be inferred from what has been said that Dr. Osler's personal attitude towards immortality is hostile or even indifferent. It is indeed frankly agnostic, so far as the standpoint of mere reason is concerned; but the author recognizes a logic of the heart which for purposes of life possesses an authority greater than does the logic of the head. His personal attitude is expressed in his approving quotation of Cicero's remark that he would rather be mistaken with Plato than be in the right with those who deny altogether the life after death.

To sum up Dr. Osler's lecture in paragraph, he says that the vast majority of people, while outwardly professing to believe in the life after death, are really without much thought or concern for it. This class he calls the Laodiceans (Rev. 3:15). Another class frankly dismisses the subject as one about which we can know nothing and need to know nothing. These are the Gallionians (Acts 18:17). In presenting the position of the Gallionians, the author states the negative arguments of physical science affecting the question of immortality. Opposed to the two foregoing classes are the small and select few, the Teresians (named from St. Theresa), who feel that to them it is given to know the mysteries This class, says Dr. Osler, has ever formed moral leaven of humanity. "They are the salt of the earth, so far as preserving for us a firm conviction of the existence of another and better world." The author's sympathies are with the Teresians, and he prefers to be wrong with them than to be right with the Gallionians.

While one must admire the heroic spirit which leads the author to align himself with those who believe in spiritual realties, in the face of opposing intellectual currents, with which alone he has come into closest contact; it must nevertheless be said that the lecture on the whole is depressing and disappointing. He conceives the intellect and the emotions as standing in such separation from each other, and even in such opposition to each other, that his purely emotional vindication of the belief in immortality reminds one of the boy's definition of faith: "Faith is believing something that you know ain't so." The Observer believes that the head and the heart, reason and faith, cannot be in substantial separation, but that whither one of these truly leads, thither the other will surely follow.

Valuable Hens.

Mr. William Wykoff claims to have the best flock of hens in Cameron county—and he certainly has good grounds for his opinion as the following true statement will show: Mr. Wykoff moved his goods from Square Timber Run to Cameron on Sunday. Among his belongings was his chicken coop, which he had loaded on a car. His 24 chickens were inside the coop and no attention was paid to them till the train reached Stillhouse Junction, where it stopped to cool a hot journal. Considerable time was consumed in cooling the journal and in the meantime the ladies in the party began to feel hungry—and some one suggested there might be an egg in the coop. Mr. Wykoff looked in and found six eggs that had been laid since the train left Square Timber Run, and five more hens on the nests. The oil stove was unpacked and a quick lunch was soon served. The distance travelled was three mile and the hens laid at the rate of two eggs per mile, which is a very good record, considering the sharp curves and low points to contend with. Mr. Wykoff intends to present one of his hens to General Kuropatkin, so he can keep up his strength while retreating from the Japs.

Millinery Opening.

Miss Ludlam has returned from the city with a complete stock of Spring Millinery and has arranged for their opening, Thursday and Friday, April, 6th and 7th, and cordially invite the public to call and see the new goods.

Broad Street.

Lady Maccabees.

The Ladies of the Maccabees, held another rousing meeting, at their hall, Thursday evening, March 30th, when sixteen candidates were led through the mysteries of the order, and introduced to his lordship, The Maccabee Goat, who has been kept busy of late, thirty-eight having been added during March.

Another Brick Project.

The J. S. Wiley Estate, owners of a large body of land near Emporium, have extensive clay beds and after extensive experiments have developed the fact that they have clays of superior quality. Mr. G S. Wiley has induced New York City capitalists to investigate the proposition, one of the party, Mr. F. M. VanDensen now being here for the purpose of looking over the territory.

Rev. Mr. Knox Preaches.

The Rev. R. J. Knox, of Lock Haven, Pa., acceptably filled the pulpit of the First Methodist Episcopal Church last Sunday morning and evening, a good sized audience greeting him at both services. Rev. Knox is pleasantly remembered by the people of our community, among whom he resided for a year. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Rentz during his visit here. The PRESS enjoyed a cocial call from the pleasant gentleman, accompanied by Mr. F. P. Rentz.

$5.00 Reward.

Philip Blossinger, better known as "Pittsburg Phil," who resides near the furnace has been somewhat annoyed lately by boys stoning his house, and last evening while he was preparing his supper, some one threw a stone through the window. A reward of $5 00 will be paid for information that will lead to the arrest of the person or persons who threw it. Any information given Chief of Police Mundy will be investigated.

Destructive Fire in Williamsport.

At an early hour last Sunday morning the Brown Building at the Corner of Pine and Willow streets, Williamsport, and the Gazette and Bulletin office on Willow street, were badly damaged by fire. The damage to the Brown Building is estimated at $20,000, and a heavy loss was inflicted on almost all the tenants of the building. The third floor of the building was fitted up with sleeping rooms and some of the occupants barely escaped with their lives, not having awakened before the flames had cut off escape by the stairway. They were rescued by ladders placed by the firemen.

The Gazette and Bulletin building suffered the most loss in the basement, used as a press room. The building escaped the fire in a fortunate manner.

Rev. Mr. Oyler.

The above named gentleman who has been stationed at Keating Summitt for four years, been removed by the Conference to Mercersburg, Pa., and departed on Wednesday for his new charge. During his Pastorate at Keating he has been very successful and energetically entered upon his work. He had charge of four gracious and extensive revivals, the membership was increased from fifty to 118 and the church property from $1,500 to $6,200; erecting a new parsonage and church. The circuit has been increased by the addition of a new charge; the pastor's salary has been increased $150, the missionary salary has increased $50. Cameron county citizens have especial interest in Rev. Oyler and wife, the latter having formerly resided here and will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Mame Phoenix.

The Deliverymen Have Their Say.

EDITOR PRESS: Being interested in the treatment of horses, I wish to comment on the article in your last issue signed signed "Anti-Cruelty." I am glad that a number of citizens are as noticeable of the treatment of horses as they infer, but I wonder if these same citizens, when cleaning their back yards, do not throw old iron, hoops, glass, papers, etc., into the alley or street, endangering horses lives. Will they not see the proper authorities in order to stop the automobiles and motor cycles from racing through the streets at a terrific rate of speed, frightening poor dumb horses more than a lash of the whip would do. Too, might they not look after livery horses while interested in Delivery horses and see that they are not raced over twenty or thirty miles in a short time, left standing in the cold, unblanketed, driven past watering troughs or fed when warmed up to a high pitch. Surely none of the "Anti-Cruelty" ever do such things (?). As I too am very much interested in the welfare of horses and do not wish to criticize the article above mentioned, but I do believe that it would be better for the "Citizens" to look after such things than to watch an experienced horseman make his horses mind, in order to have them drive up well and enjoy the appreciation of his employers.

Daisy Gets Ripping.

Editor Press: —

In a recent issue of the PRESS we noticed a letter written by "Daisy," in which the management, or the mismanagemeut, of the schools of this place, was the subject which called forth a glowing tribute from the gifted pen of our inspired Daisy. He speaks of the high rate of taxation. Are the teachers responsible for the amount required to RUN the schools? Can he prove that the directors are not attending to their duties? "Daisy" seems to think that the teachers receive too much pay for their work. Why does he not USE HIS INFLUENCE and perhaps the salaries MIGHT be reduced. "Daisy" also insinuates that the truant officer is not looking after truants as he should. Can "Daisy', prove the truth of all that he said? In regards to the entertainments or "theatricals," as "Daisy" so lovingly styles them, he made a slight mistake in his count, or it maybe that he has not the usual number of fingers on his right hand. "Daisy" should endeavor to keep truth on his side, in such matters, at least, for someone, who has nothing else to do, may dispute his statements. The "A or larger" class may RUN the school but the lady in charge has reserved the the right to offer suggestions and for some reason her suggestions are immediately acted upon. Strange isn't it?

In every village we are sure to find one or two persons who are unwilling to attend to their own affairs and to this class "Daisy" evidently belongs. If he was dissatisfied with the work done in the schools, why did he not complain either to the directors or the teachers? Oh what a pity that "Daisy" cannot reform the universe. In conclusion, we would advise "Daisy" to attend to his own affairs. He has not covered himself with glory nor has he made any friends by the stand he has taken. He seems to be standing alone and his figure is not a pretty one. We think the directors and teachers are capable of attending to the schools and that they require no assistance from such as "Daisy."

FAIR PLAY.

Sterling Run, Pa., April 4th, 1905.

Reception to Rev. O. S. Metzler.

The return of Rev. O. S. Metzler, Pastor of Emporium M. E. Church for another year, making six years, the longest continued service of any previous pastor, was fittingly celebrated Tuesday evening at the spacious church, a large gathering of friends, of all denominations, extending their congratulations to the genial gentleman. A short musical program of a pleasing nature was prepared, consisting of two selections on the pipe organ by Prof Ericsson, vocal solos by Miss Byrde Taggart and Miss Grace Lloyd and a violin solo by Miss Grace Walker, in addition to several fine selections by the Sunday School Orchestra, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Feltwell, Miss Myrtle Lloyd, Edgar Good, W. W. Knickerbocker and John A Johnston, leader. The ladies of the church served a dainty lunch. It was a very happy social occasion and enjoyed greatly by all present.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Organ Recital at Catholic Church, April 14th.

Be sure you read L. Taggart's fresh "ad" in this issue of the PRESS.

The only Department store in Cameron county, LaBar's big brick block.

Spring is here dead sure, judging from the fact that H. S. Lloyd plants his spring "ad" in this issue.

If you have not seen LaBar's Carpet Department, call and look it over. He will save you money. 4-4t

The Republicans of the county are receiving the several aspirants for county nominations very cordially.

Candidates are now calling on the dear people, fixing up their fences for nomination. May the best men win.

The Odd Fellows lodge throughout the country will celebrate the 86th anniversary of the foundation of the order on April 26.

W. P. Murphy of Ridgway, has been appointed Associate Judge of Elk county by Governor Pennypacker to succeed the late judge, Andrew Kaul

The contribution received from "Si-Loam" Sinnamahoning, is unavoidably crowded out for want of space. We will give the matter our attention in the future.

Edward Stahly, who had charge of Murry & Coppersmith's store at Renovo, skipped out last week, deserting his wife and one child—formerly Miss Johnson of Emporium.

A Dime Social will be held at F. D. McClure's home, East ward, by class No. 3, of the Presbyterian Sunday school, on Friday evening, of this week. Everybody cordially invited. Proceeds towards church debt.

Rev. H. C. Bower, Pastor of Cameron Circuit, will preach at the following appointments, next Sunday, April 9: Moore Hill at 11 o'clock, Howard Siding 3 o'clock, and Beechwood at 7:30 in the evening. The Sunday school will be reorganized at Moore Hill, at 10 o'clock.

LaBar has his new brick block completed now and it is a beauty—full of fine furniture, carpets, linoleums, lace curtains, portiers, rugs, big or little, dinner sets, toilet sets, in fact everything that goes to make up a first class furniture store. Call and look it over. No trouble to show you around. 4-4t

HALL.

GEORGE HARRISON HALL, aged about 65 years, died in his room over Frank Shives' store, last Friday morning, after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia.

George came to Emporium in Feb. 1866 from the army, having followed the troops from the south. At Norfolk, Va., he tied to Capt. R. M. Overhiser and cared for his horses. When the war closed George shouldered his knapsack and musket and kept with the Cameron county boys until he landed here, where he has ever since been a familiar figure, working for years for J. L. Cook and Judge Cochran and the last few years for Mr. Shives. During his last illness Mr. Shives and family gave him every attention and ministered to his every want. Nothing positive is known of George's history, but he was evidently born in slavery, although George insisted he was born in Dublin, his mother being Irish and his father an Indian. While he was unable to read or write he was cute enough and took pride in remembering how to pronounce big words and use them in their proper place. During all his years passed here he was trusted by every employer and never once was his honesty questioned. Tell George Harrison not to repeat what was told to him it was a sealed book. He was a character and everybody had a pleasant word for him.

Undertaker Egan took charge of his remains and placed them in the parlor over the store, dressed in his G. A. R uniform and decorated with his sash and badges of honor—the latter highly prized by the deceased during life. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. J. M. Robertson Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church officiating. The rooms were well filled with our citizens, a large number following him to the grave. Floral offerings decorated his casket and potted ferns were stationed around the room. His pall bearers were prominent citizens—Capt. R. M. Overhiser, H. L. Burns, M. T. Hogan, M. C. Tulis, J. W. Kriner and A. A. McDonald. The faithful old soul had a good christian burial, thanks to the friends who had known him for 39 years—Mr. Shives purchasing the lot in Wiley Cemetery, and paying for his care during illness, other friends defraying the undertaker's expenses. Peace to his soul.

BARR.

Mr. James A. Barr, of Dents Run, died at Philadelphia Hospital, March 30th, from a complication of diseases. Deceased was born Feb. 23, 1860 and was the eldest son of Saul Barr, deceased, and was born and lived all his life on the old homestead near Dents Run, where he was taken ill. Besides a wife and two small children he leaves five sisters and one brother to mourn his death: Mrs. Justina Miller, Mrs. A. H. Barr, of Huston Hill, Mrs. L. B. Russell, of Medix Run; Mrs. Thos. Ford and Mrs. Saul Nice, Dents Run and Milton S. Barr, of Lake, Miss. All members of the family were present at the funeral, except Mrs. Russell and Milton S. Barr.

The family desires the PRESS to thank all friends who assisted them during their affliction We regret we have not the full particulars and data at hand in order that we might give the deceased a fitting obituary—the family having for years been staunch friends of the PRESS and its editor. We extend our sympathy to the afflicted family.

Will Leave Emporium.

Our town people will regret to learn that the family of the late James Morrisey will break up their home and leave for different places. P. J., will go to Superior, Wis., Miss Ella will return to Kane, Pa, and Thomas will make his home with his sister, Mrs. Robt House at St. Marys. All of the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrisey were born and raised in Emporium and out of eleven, Mrs. Bingham Hemphill will be the only one residing at this place.

Knights of Columbus.

An order of Knights of Columbus will be instituted in Emporium, April 30th, with fifty members. In addition to the charter members a large number of members from adjoining counties will be present.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list and testimonials.

Letter to C. A. VanLew.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: You want a cheap job of paint for a cheap house, don't you?

Its Devoe. It's the regular thing is Devoe; there's nothing, in all paint, so cheap as Devoe.

Oh, yes you can paint with mud; but that isn't paint; you want it to look about right for a month or two.

Paint Devoe; can't do it for less, there's nothing so cheap; say nothing of wear, ther's nothing so cheap as Devoe.

It goes so far; save gallons; no matter about the price, save gallons. A gallon of paint, put-on, costs $4 or $5, save gallons.

Devoe is your paint; save gallons; Devoe is your paint.

Yours truly

Another Woman Genius.

Miss Mears, who made the Frances E. Willard statue, that was unveiled in the capitol at Washington, is conceded by capable judges of sculptural art to be a genius. She began to model when she was a child. Before she was nine years old her work was exhibited and admired. She won the prize of $500 offered by the Woman's club of Milwaukee for the best work of art exhibited at the World's Columbian exxposition by a Wisconsin woman. It was a symbolical figure of that state, which has since been put in marble, and now stands in the rotunda of the capitol at Madison. Up to that time she was simply following her instincts. All her technical instructions was limited to six weeks at the Art institute at Chicago, but her work attracted so much attention hat Mr. St. Gaudens admitted her to his studio in New York, where she remained a year and a half, and then went to Paris. There she won instant success, and in 1897 her work was admitted to the salon. She then went to Rome and Florence, and at the completion of her third year in Europe joined Mr. St. Gaudens and assisted him in his studio for two years. Her design for the Willard statue was the unanimous choice of the commission.

Extremely Superstitious.

The "13" superstition was carried to an unusual length by the members of the Brooklyn Sangerbund Women's chorus, who celebrated the fourteenth anniversay of the society the other evening. The society was organized in 1892, and some curiosity was aroused as to why the fourteenth instead of the thirteenth anniversary was celebrated. It was learned that on account of the number 13 being considered by the girl singers an unlucky one it was thought best to have the event called the "fourteenth" and avoid any risk that something unexpected might happen, the more because a feature of the concert was the operetta "Die Maus" ("The Mouse"), that little animal, as is well known, already having caused many troubles for the women.

While a district of Columbia measure was before the house the other afternoon Congressman Bartlett, of Georgia, being in a pesky mood, raised the point of no quorum. Speaker Cannon sent some messengers out for absentees and then proceeded to count the house in very leisurely fashion. Try as he could, he was unable to make the required number. A clerk at the desk said something to him as to the probable whereabouts of certain members, and Mr. Cannon answered in a stage whisper: "All right; you go hustle 'em in while I count slow again."

At the luncheon that followed the christening of the Nebraska at Seattle, Miss Mary Mickey told a naive story of her father, who is governor of Nebraska. "One evening my father," she said, "dictated some of his correspondence to me. There was one letter that struck me. It was to an employe of my father's. It inclosed a railway ticket and it said: 'You ask me for a ticket for your mother-in-law, who is about to visit you. The ticket is within. It is an excursion ticket, limited to three days.'"

Any New York woman would be read out of the 400 should she have anything to do with "trade" while at home, but when they go abroad they easily overlook such behavior on the part of their titled sisters. Just at present Gotham is chuckling over the experience of a fashionable matron of that city while in London recently. She wished for presentation to the duchess of Abercorn, who sells butter, cream and eggs, but found it impossible to win the goal of her ambition, the duchess declining the honor.

"They know how to use the language to express their meaning concisely down in my country," said Representative Garner, of Texas. "I remember hearing a man make a speech in the legislature. He said: 'You don't want to do this, boys, for if you do it will put my people clean down to the cloth.' There was not a man in the room who didn't fully understand exactly what he meant to convey by the expression. They all had played cards one time or another, you know.

OBSTRUCTING DEMOCRATS.

How the Opposition Strove to Embarrass the Administration in the Santo Domingo Matter.

The senate's special session ended, and the Santo Domingo treaty was not ratified. This is a triumph for the democrats, but it carries with it no personal advantage for the individual democratic senators, and it gives no prestige to the democratic party, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who has the long-distance record for talking, was the head and front of the opposition. He consumed several days of the session with his charges, which were largely untrue or exaggerated, and with his arguments, which were principally irrelevant or inconsequential. Thus the time of the session was taken up with talk which had delay for its leading purpose, for Morgan was supported in the filibustering line by other democrats. Through their dilatory tactics, supplemented by an investigation regarding same federal appointments, the session was prolonged to about twice the average length of those special meetings of the senate at the beginning of the presidential terms, annd a leading purpose of the session was defeated.

Yet neither the president nor the republican party is harmed in any material way by the failure of the treaty. That compact was not recommitted. It remains on the calendar, and will be taken up immediately after congress meets, whether in extra or regular session. It is conceded, of course, that the republican leaders in the senate made no especial effort to push the treaty. They were impeded at the outset by two circumstances. Many republican seats in the senate were vacant. A large majority of the democrats, it was believed, would be sure to vote against the treaty. Its rejection, therefore, would be reasonably certain if it came to a test. This was the condition which confronted the republicans. Senators Cullom, Spooner, Lodge and other republican leaders laid this situation before the president. He grasped the conditions immediately and counseled postponement. Thus the treaty goes over to the fall or winter session. If congress is called for September or October, as some persons who stand close to the president think it will be, the treaty will then be taken up. If not, the matter will be disposed of quickly at the regular session, beginning in December.

Very little embarrassment has been inflicted on the president or the party by the democrats' triumph. When congress comes into session the next time it is likely that every republican seat in the senate will be filled. The half a dozen or more republican absentees in Europe and at American health resorts will be on hand. It is probable that La Follette will have abandoned the governorship by that time and take his senate seat. Missouri will be represented. There is a chance that the Delaware deadlock will be broken and the republican vacant seat from that state will be filled. Even with their full quota the republicans will still lack several votes of the necessary two-thirds to carry the treaty, but it is safe to say that they will get enough votes from the democrats to supply this gap. The opposition to the treaty among the democrats will be weaker next fall and winter than it is now. In several points where the treaty needed amandment it has been amended. When the democratic obstructives hear from their constituents during the recess they will learn that their course is unpopular. In its present shape the treaty gives us the power in the Santo Domingo case which we need to supplement and defend the Monroe principle. It will furnish no precedent to hamper us in the future. The delay will be something of a humiliation for the country, but the responsibility for it will belong to the democrats, and another reason, to be used against them in the campaign of 1908, will be furnished why the democratic party is unfit to be trusted by the American people.

IN THE POLITICAL DRIFT.

☞Every member of the president's official family is a man of experience and of approved ability. Every one knows the duties and requirements of his position thoroughly well, and is, moreover, fully competent to form sound judgments on questions affecting the general conduct of the government.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

☞A Boston mugwump says there should be a new republican party. On that proposition all the democrats will cheerfully fuse. The original republican party is rather too hefty in its latest plurality to suit any branch of the opposition. How would a new democratic party answer the purpose, instead of one with an immense new patch on its trousers?—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Before we can talk of expert handling of the tariff question it must be taken out of politics. The people of the country must come to a common tariff ground. Either the democrats must abandon free trade or the republicans forsake their protective ideas. With the country agreed on the principle of the thing, the fixing of schedules would be but an administrative act in which knowledge might have full play.—Trenton Gazette.

☞When Mr. Bryan feels that he is being forgotten he praises some republican.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Mr. Fairbanks, while not capable of inspiring great enthusiasm, does inspire confidence and respect. His legal mind, well trained in constitutional law, is admirably fitted to preside over the senate, whose members, as his former colleagues, entertain the highest regard for his common sense and good judgment. Fortunate, indeed, in our president, we are equally so in the new vice president who takes his place by the side of Theodore Roosevelt.—Binghamton Press.

PROTECTION MAKES GOOD.

Facts Which Prove That the Republican Tariff Has Helped the Woolen Trade.

It was hardly to be supposed that the Boston Herald would accept everything that William Whitman stated in his recent speech regarding the condition of the woolen industry and of the benefits of the protective tariff to the industry and to the people all the facts were repugnant to the Herald and to those who advocate the extreme measure of free trade. The Herald, says the Textile Manufactures' Journal, could not allow the occasion to go by without editorial comment, and its comments are just as far from facts as usual. There is only one phase of its criticism that is of special interest to us, that having relation to the acual consumpion of wool fabrics. Satistics are of little value as a guide to us in determining a fair estimate of this phase of the situation, for observation and common intelligence are better and more accurate guides. Customs change, methods of living change, and with these changes come changes in the use and consumption of woolen goods. The decline, if it may be so called, in the consumption of woolen goods, such as blankets and goods of similar character, cannot in any way be attributable to increased prices, to any diminution of wealth on the part of the masses, for prices on blankets are not as high to-day as they were 20 years ago; in point of fact, woolen goods, men's wear and dress goods may be purchased to-day at a less price than 20 or 30 years ago. This, too, despite the fact that wool is high in price, and despite the fact, too, that a protective tariff is in existence. The construction of our houses does not make necessary as large a consumption of blankets as of old. Our ideas of wearing apparel are so changed that it is unnecessary for us to be clothed in the same manner as of old, our under garments requiring less wool. So one article after another might be enumerated illustrating the point in mind.

The Herald is blind when it talks tariff, for it sees nothing good in a protective tariff, even though an analysis of the condition of the country would disclose a condition far in advance in a material way over that of other years. And we have only to hark back a few years ago when the Wilson law was in force. Oh, the horrors of those days! It is true goods were selling then at low values, but what kind of goods were they? Goods made out of punk, made out of everything except wool. The country may thank itself that it is living to-day under a different regime. The Herald does itself and its readers an injustice when it talks of a protective tariff inducing reduced consumption of wool goods.

PHILIPPINES IN TRUST.

The Islands Will Be Held Indefinitely, Declares Secretary Taft.

Secretary Taft is one of the ablest men in President Roosevelt's cabinet and one proof of his ability is that he is not a Bourbon, but learns something from time to time and exhibits progress. Certainly he has received new light during the last six months in the Philippines, says the Chicago Chronicle.

There was a time when he thought our hold on the archipelago was failing. He described the existing government as a government by Americans aided by Filipinos and the prospective government by Filipinos aided by Americans.

The secretary's new view of the subject is contained in a letter which he wrote recently to John N. Blair, of New York, who had informed him that capital was shy of the Philippines because it was supposed the government intended ultimately to abandon them. In reply to this letter Secretary Taft assured Mr. Blair that the policy of the government was "the indefinite retention of the Philippine islands" and that it would be a "violation of trust for the United States to abandon the islands," at least for generations to come.

That sounds much better than the talk in which Mr. Taft formerly indulged, but it would have sounded still better for the secretary to say that the United States intended to retain the islands as long as water ran and grass grew, for that is the naked truth. No nation ever surrenders territory, unless it is on its last legs and is compelled to do so.

Protection Makes Possible.

☞The McKinley tariff of 2.2 cents a pound was imposed July 1, 1891, and since that time the tin plate production in this country has grown rapidly and importation has decreased in like measure. Here are the figures: In 1891 the imports of tin plate into the United States aggregated 327,882 tons; in 1903 they were 47,360, and much of this was for manufacture of articles for export instead of for home consumption. In 1891 the total production of tin plate in the United States was 552 tons; in 1902 it was 366,000 tons. All of this increase was made possible by the operation of protective tariffs. In 1891 the average price of full weignt coke tin plate was $5.50; in 1901 it was $3.82.—Camden Telegram.

☞Senator Hopkins declares that the subject of Tariff revision should be "treated intelligently." Congress is treating it that way. It refuses to get excited over a matter that is not urgent.—Kansas City Journal.

☞The "standpatters" have reason to rejoice that they took the conservative position they did nearly four years ago. By their firmness they were able to beat down the howling of the agitator and carry the party to a safe harbor through two elections—one of them the greatest presidential election the country ever saw.—Vinton (Ia.) Eagle.

WILL ACCEPT THE $100,000

Commissioners for Foreign Missions Intend to Use Cash Given by Mr. Rockefeller.

Boston, March 30.—The American board of commissioners for foreign missions announced yesterday that its prudential committee had accepted a report of the sub-committee, recommending the acceptance of the gift of $100,000 by John D. Rockefeller, but that final action on the matter had been postponed for two weeks.

The committee in a public statement says: "Your committee sees no reason why we should have departed from the custom of the board and made our committee practically a tribunal to decide whether gifts are to be received.

"It seems to us that it would have been an usurpation if we had tried to stop the money of any man who wished to give it for missionary work. The reason assigned for rejecting the recent gift is that gifts constitute a relation of 'honor' between the recipient and the donor. This gift was made without conditions. This means that it involves the American board in no obligation to the donor. The church must make such an assumption about all its gifts or receive none at all."

FIRE FOLLOWED EXPLOSION

Collision in the New York Subway Caused All Kinds of Trouble.

New York, March 30.—A severe explosion, followed by an outbreak of fire, which up to a late hour last night defied all the efforts of the firemen to completely extinguish it, occurred Wednesday in the unfinished section of the subway at Broadway and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh street. The road at that point is 125 feet below the surface. The explosion followed a collision between an empty train, which had been run too far beyond the terminal switch, and a flat car on which were several Italian laborers. It was rumored that the shock detonated a box of dynamite cartridges on the car, although all the men on the car escaped uninjured.

General Manager Hedley stated that there was no dynamite in the tunnel and that the explosion was caused by a short circuit on the third rail and the feed cable, resulting from the collision, which set fire to some of the timbers used by the contractor in shoring up the tunnel. No person was injured.

THEY ALL OBEYED PROMPTLY

Panama Canal Commissioners Resigned When Requested by Secretary Taft.

Washington, March 30.—The first practical step having in view the reorganization of the Panama canal commission was taken Wednesday when, in compliance with instructions from President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft requested the members of the commission to tender their resignations. This request was promptly complied with by those members of the commission now in Washington and their resignations will be in the hands of the president to-day.

It was believed originally that better results might be accomplished by the appointment of a smaller commission than that now existing, but a recent opinion of Attorney General Moody held that under the law the president was required to name seven members in all. The appointments probably will be announced by the president during his southern trip.

Japan Demands Huge Indemnity.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—Officially the authorities deny that Russia has made any proposals to Japan. It is asserted in well informed quarters that Japan has permitted Russia to learn that the peace conditions will be severely rigorous. In particular it is said that Japan's indemnity figure is $800,000,000 and that this stupendous sum has proved so staggering to Russian diplomacy that it is the chief cause why the peace preliminaries do not advance to a decisive stage.

Burned Her Home and Money.

La Crosse, Wis., March 30.—Confessing that she had burned her house and money because she intended to kill herself and did not want to leave anything whereby her relatives could profit at her death, Charlotte Wolf, aged 74, was yesterday adjudged insane and committed to an asylum. A few days ago she was prevented by relatives from hanging herself.

Mickey Vetoed the Bill.

Lincoln, Neb., March 30.—Gov. Mickey has sent to the house a veto of the bill for the regulation of the practice of medicine in Nebraska. The bill is also known as "The anti-Christian science bill." The governor says in his veto he believes the bill to be in violation of the constitution which demands religious toleration and freedom.

Grand Jury Heard Ten Witnesses.

Chicago, March 30.—Ten witnesses, several of them employes of Chicago packers, were heard at yesterday's session of the special grand jury investigating the so-called beef trust. All the witnesses were subjected to rigid examination as to whether they had been approached by outsiders since being called as witnesses.

Died on His Wedding Day.

Jamestown, N. Y., March 30.—Rev. Albert Lundberg, of Scandia, Pa., who was here preparing for his marriage to Miss Hulda Fritz, of this city, dropped dead yesterday. The wedding was to have been celebrated in the mission church last night. Six hundred invitations had been issued.

Thomas H. Watts Dies.

Montgomery, Ala., March 30.—Thomas H. Watts, great incohonee of the Red Men of the United States, died at his home in this city yesterday. He was 50 years old and was a prominent lawyer.

CAUGHT IN CINCINNATI

Morgan Smith and Wife, Wanted in the Nan Patterson Case, Are Arrested.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Smith's Wife Is a Sister to Miss Patterson and Smith Is Alleged to Have Selected the Pistol with Which Bookmaker Young Was Shot.

Cincinnati, March 31.—Accused of conspiracy to commit murder, J. Morgan Smith and wife, who is a sister of Nan Patterson, were arrested in this city Thursday on telegraphic request from District Attorney Jerome, of New York City. Nan Patterson, the actress, who has been twice put on trial for the murder of Caesar Young in New York, May 4, 1904, is charged in the same connection, new indictments to this effect having been found in New York yesterday. For a long time the authorities have been unable to locate Smith and his wife, the couple having left New York a few months after the murder, and before the beginning of the recent mis-trial of Nan Patterson in which Smith's testimony was considered almost vital to the prosecution.

Morgan Smith is declared by the New York authorities to have gone with Nan Patterson to a pawnbroker's shop in New York and to have selected for her the pistol with which Young was shot.

New York, March 31.—The grand jury in this city on Thursday handed down indictments against J. Morgan Smith, Julia Smith, his wife, and Nan Patterson, charging them jointly with conspiracy. The indictments are based upon a letter alleged to have been written by Julia Smith to Caesar Young in which, it is alleged, was a threat and a demand for money for the Patterson girl.

UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS.

Plans for Lines to Cost Hundreds of Millions Submitted to New York's Rapid Transit Commission.

New York, March 31.—An elaborate supplemental system of underground railway line in Greater New York, which, if constructed on the plans suggested will entail an expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, was outlined in a report submitted to the rapid transit commission yesterday by the commission's committee on plans and contracts. Fourteen separate routes are provided in the plans.

They include two additional subways extending the full length of Manhattan Island, one of them reaching into the Bronx; several lines through Manhattan above Forty-second street and a number of cross-town lines between Fifty-ninth street and Fourteenth street, a tunnel under the East river, connecting Manhattan with the borough of Brooklyn; subway loops connecting the Williamsburg and Brooklyn bridges and an elaborate system of tunnels extending to various points in Brooklyn.

Japanese Scouting Parties Active.

Harbin, March 31.—Japanese scouting parties are very active in endeavoring to pierce the screen of the Russian vanguard posts and develop the strength of the positions, their attempts at times verging on the nature of reconnaisances in force. A few Japanese batteries which have pushed far forward occasionally drop Shimose shells in suspected places. Wednesday there was a smart brush where Gen. Mistchenko is stationed, the Japanese pressing forward in a determined endeavor to make a thorough reconnaissance and learn the dispositions in this quarter. The Russians repelled the advance. There were insignificant losses.

They Drew the Color Line.

Washington, March 31.—M. J. Hornsby, a negro who twice passed a civil service examination and twice has been appointed to clerkships in the postoffice at Yazoo, Miss., has complained at the White House that he is prevented from holding his position by reason of the brutality of white citizens of Yazoo. The president was unable to take up the case because all of his time before leaving for his western trip is filled with engagements. Hornsby was referred to the civil service commission.

Double Murder in an Illinois Town.

Collinsville, Ill., March 31.—In a shooting affair yesterday Mrs. John Berta and Barney Vossallo were killed and John Berta, husband of the woman, was slightly wounded. Berta was released from custody last night on a coroner's jury verdict of justifiable homicide. Vossallo entered Berta's place of business and began shooting at Mrs. Berta. She seized a revolver and returned the fire.

Duck Hunters Drowned.

Owosso, Mich., March 31.—Charles Scott, aged 30 years, and Ray Scott, aged 19, of St. Charles, have been drowned in the marsh near that place while duck hunting. A storm that came up suddenly capsized their skiff.

Must Not Shoot Live Birds.

Springfield, Ill., March 31.—A bill prohibiting the shooting of live pigeons or other birds in marksmanship matches was passed by the house of representatives yesterday. The bill had already passed the senate and now goes to the governor.

Colliery to be Flooded.

Shamokin, Pa., March 31.—It was decided yesterday to flood the Enterprise colliery here. The mine has been on fire since last November. The flames were thought to have been extinguished several times, but broke out in new places.

THE FITNESS OF THINGS.

Well-Chosen Subject for an Essay by Youth Who Wanted It Written for Him.

The boy was nearing the time of his graduation from the high school. He was a favorite in the school, but he had taken higher rank on the baseball and football fields than he had in the classroom, and this was when he began to be sorry. The "exercises" of graduation day loomed large before him. He was down for an essay. It looked more formidable than any obstacle he had ever encountered on the athletic field, and the nearer the day came the larger it looked, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

There was a Harvard man staying in the village at the time, and to him, finally, the young athlete went and besought his help in the writing of the essay. The university man was amused, but he concealed his emotions.

"Well," he said, "a graduation essay is a fussy piece of work. I haven't done much writing lately, and I hardly feel like tackling such a job." The boy's face fell.

"Still," the Harvard man added, "I don't know—perhaps—I suppose you've picked out the subject you want to write about?"

"Yes," answered the young athlete, "the subject is 'Self-Reliance.'"

What the Dentist Says.

Toledo, Ohio, March 27th.—(Special)—Harry T. Lewis, the well-known dentist of 607 Sumit street, this city, is telling of his remarkable cure of Kidney Disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was flat on my back and must say I had almost given up all hope of ever getting any help," says Dr. Lewis.

"My kidneys had troubled me for years. The pains in my back were severe and I had to get up several times at night. I tried different medicines but kept on getting worse till I was laid up.

"Then a friend advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and in about two weeks I started to improve. Now I am glad to admit I am cured and I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills too highly."

If you take Dodd's Kidney Pills when your kidneys first show signs of being out of order you will never have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel or Rheumatism.

Not a few people will sympathize with the boy who, when he was asked what he would like to be when he grew up to be a man, replied: "A centenarian."—Boston Globe.

The Battles Being Fought

between Russia and Japan bring out great examples of individual heroism. But there was never a battle in history that demonstrated personal bravery more than the battle being waged every day by both men and women who are handicapped by pain and sickness in their struggle to provide for their families and themselves. If all sufferers could only know of the relief Pusheck's Kuro would bring to them they would find life's path much easier. Dr. Pusheck is mailing to all sufferers a full sized dollar box of his remedy, without any deposit or obligation of any kind—the only understanding being that after it has helped you you are to send the price—One Dollar.—Write to-day to Dr. C. OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

Miss Margret Merkley

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhœa, don't neglect yourself: try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SOUTHERN CONDITIONS AND POSSIBILITIES.

In no part of the United States has there been such wonderful Commercial, Industrial and Agricultural development as along the lines of the Illinois Central and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroads in the States of Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, within the past ten years. Cities and towns have doubled their population. Splendid business blocks have been erected. Farm lands have more than doubled in value. Hundreds of industries have been established and as a result there is an unprecedented demand for Day Laborers, Skilled Workmen, and especially Farm Tenants.

Parties with small capital, seeking an opportunity to purchase a farm home; farmers who would prefer to rent for a couple of years before purchasing; and day laborers in fields or factories should address a postal card to Mr. J. F. Merry, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Dubuque, Iowa, who will promptly mail printed matter concerning the territory above described, and give specific replies to all inquiries.

10,000 Plants for 16c.

A Sure Cure for Weakness, Pain, Rheumatism, and all Blood and Nerve Troubles, for General Debility, Skin Diseases, Catarrh, Indigestion, Misuse and Heart Diseases.
DR. C. PUSHECK.
Pusheck's Kuro tones up and strengthens the brain, spinal cord and all the nerves. It increases appetite, stimulates the heart, purifies and enriches the blood, and imparts vitality. It does not contain opium, cocaine or any other injurious drugs. Pusheck's Kuro restores energy and ambition, gives strength and vigor to every organ, hardens flabby muscles, restores lost powers, strengthens the mind, cures sleeplessness, recharges the system with force and energy, brings new life into every fibre; your former energy will return to every nerve and muscle. Four-fifths of the unhappiness and misery in the world is due to weak nerves. It makes weak men strong and tired women happy, restores lost nerve force, causes cheeks to glow and eyes to sparkle and makes the step elastic. Nor is it a temporary improvement, but a permanent cure.
The most prevalent Blood and Skin Diseases are rheumatism, scrofula, anaemia, paleness, ulcers, pics, varicose veins, soft flabby flesh, weak eyes, ringing in the ears, poor sleep, gout, tumors, muscular or bone pains, boils, eczema, pimples, sores, etc. All these and many more are also cured with Pusheck's Kuro.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 1, 1905.

Editor Press:—

When the extra session of Congress is called in October the President will present for its consideration the two questions which were passed at the last session without legislation, that is railroad rate legislation and the revision of the Dingley tariffs in certain schedules. The action of the two bodies comprising Congress on these matters is not difficult to phophesy. The lower house, the members of which are dependent on their constituents for their place necessarily reflect the views of the people, and it is well known that the great general public is with the President in his desire to regulate railway rates. On the other hand the Senate represents to a considerable extent the great corporat, interests of the country, and as a body it will be no more inclined to pass the railroad rate bill at the coming session than it was at the last. The House of Representatives will in all likelihood pass a rate bill as easily as the last one but it will be in the Senate that a blockade can almost surely be predicted. There are Senators from the greatest states in the Union who represented in the Senate not the people of their states but private corporate interests and it is these corporation Senators who will be responsible for the defeat of the bill. One thing alone can prevent the miscarriage of these reforms and that is for the corporation Senators to be made to understand in no uncertain way that they are in the Senate to represent the people and to fulfill their wishes. During the summer months the people will have an opportunity through the press and other sources to inform their Senators what they desire in the matter and to find out as well, where their Senators stand on these important matters. Men who are representing great trusts in the Senate whether they be the Express Company trust, railroad trusts, coal trusts or any other monopoly should be catechised by the people and be made to declare themselves. If railway rate legislation is to be effected in this or any other Congress it can only be by the people forcing the Senators to represent the states aright and not according to the dictates of the companies for whom they sat as agents in the Senate.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over ten years, and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at L. Taggart's drug store. Trial bottles free.

The most hopeless task is that of saving the world with a scowl.

Restored to His Mother.

I think it saved my boy's life. You do not know how sick he was. His urinate was like blood, and it would almost take his life to urinate. He took six bottles of Thompson's Barosma, Kidney and Liver Cure which made a complete cure.—Mrs. D. D. Buchanan, Cherrytree, Pa. Druggists, 50c and $1.00. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

We all think our sorrows are the greatest and our ills the worst.

A Tried and True Friend.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to many who use it. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

A TRUE APPETIZER AND TONIC

Mi-o-na Will Make You Feel Hungry and Hearty, and Give Strength and Vitality.

Ask any friend who looks thin, pale, and out of health how many meals he or she eats a day, and the chances are that the answer will be, "Not over two, and I don't feel hungry then." The plump, rosy, and robust eat three square meals daily and their perfect health is due to a strong stomach and digestive system, as such a system takes out of the food all those elements that make pure blood, and give nourishment and vitality to the body.

The one appetizer and tonic that should be taken is Mi-o-na, the only agent known that will strengthen the stomach and digestive system, and put them in such perfect working order that they will digest easily and naturally all the food that is eaten, and send you to the table positively hungry for the next meal.

Without a strong stomach digestion will be poor, the blood impure, and serious liver and kidney troubles result, causing headaches, backaches, spots before the eyes, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritableness, a furred tongue and bad breath, all of which can be readily overcome by the use of Mi-o-na, (costing but 50c a box) as it goes right to the foundation of perfect health, the stomach.

Scores of leading people in the State, including editors, ministers, bankers, and their families, gladly testify to the tonic, strengthening and health giving effects of Mi-o-na. Furthermore, L. Taggart, one of the most reliable druggists in this section, sells Mi-o-na under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not produce satisfactory results.

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find they have no equal." L. Taggart druggist, guarantees them at 50c.

There are no shadows so dark as the gloom of a heartbroken lover.

A Night Attack.

Last night the little daughter of Mrs. Brown, as she sweetly and peacefully slept in her little bed near the window, was attacked by a death dealing demon known as Croup Whooping Cough, and but for the timely use of Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, which she always keeps handy, the life of the little one might not have been saved. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is different from all of the old-time cough syrups and is best for children because it acts on the bowels, is harmless, safe and certain. Contains no opiates. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

If men knew when they had enough, there would be plenty for all.

A Daredevil Ride.

Often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at L. Taggart's, druggist.

After a man is knocked down by his enemies his friends kick him.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at L. Taggart's drug store, guaranteed.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cools, soothes and heals cuts, burns, boils, bruises, piles and all skin diseases. K. E. Zickefoose, Adolph, W. Va., says: "My little daughter had white swelling so bad that piece after piece of bone worked out of her leg. WeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her." It is the most wonderful healing salve in the world. Beware of counterfeits. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Forget About Your Stomach.

If your digestion is bad the vital organs of your body are not fed and nourished as they should be. They grow weak and invite disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, cures indigestion and all stomach troubles. You forget you have a stomach from the very day you begin taking it. This is because it gets a rest—recuperates and gradually grows so strong and healty that it troubles you no more. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

To Washington vis Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on April 14, will run a special excursion from Buffalo and principal intermediate stations on the Buffalo and Allegheny Valley Division and from points on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, Erie to Lock Haven, inclusive, to Washington for the benefit of all who may wish to visit the National Capital. Round trip tickets good going on all regular trains on day of issue, and good returning on any regular train except the Pennsylvania Limited, Chicago Limited and St. Louis Limited within ten days, exclusive of going date, will be sold at rate of $10.00 for the round trip from points on the Buffalo and Allegheny Valley Division and from Erie, St. Marys and intermediate points; and at rate of $8.95 from Driftwood; $8.15 from Renovo; $7.30 from Lock Haven and proportionate rates from other points.

These tickets will be good to return direct via Harrisburg or Philadelphia and to stop off at Baltimore and Philadelphia returning if deposited with ticket agent at Union Station, Baltimore or Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

For additional information consult small handbills, apply to ticket agents or address B. P. Fraser, Passenger Agent, Buffalo District, 307 Main Street, Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N.Y., or E. S. Harrar, Division Ticket Agent, Williamsport, Pa.

Kitchen Economy.

With the uniform high charges for gas, the gas stove is ordinarily the most expensive piece of household machinery, and at the same time it is the one least understood by the average house keeper. Writing in the May Delineator under the topic "Gas Stove and Refrigerator Knowledge," Isabel Gordon Curtis has some suggestions in this connection which rob the gas stove of some of its terrors of cost. Young housewives particularly will profit by reading the article, which is in the series "The making of a Housewife." Other topics of domestic interest.

William Oswald and wife, of Bolivar, N. Y., visited in Emporium over Sunday, guests at City Hotel. Mr. Oswald is erecting a $30,000 Catholic Church at Bolivar. He met many friends while in Emporium.

The PRESS has neglected to mention the fact that Samuel J. Kline, of this place, has taken charge of the Federal House at Williamsport, for Mrs. T. J. Lysett. Mr. Kline has many friends in Emporium, who would regret to have him leave us, for his removal would take away an excellent family.

George Lynch, Sr., of Sterling Run, transacted business in Emporium on Tuesday and enrolled his name with the PRESS for 1905. Mr. Lynch is a practical saw mill man, having for several years been engaged in cutting the timber on the Sinnamahoning Iron & Coal Company lands. He is now enjoying a little rest Mr. Lynch and his sons are a full team and know how to manage a hemlock job and mill.

G. T. Dixon and family leave this week for Westboro, Wis., to assist C. B. Howard Company in their lumbering operations. Friend Dixon called at the PRESS office on Tuesday and shoved the PRESS ahead another year before leaving. Thomas is a hustler in the woods and having formerly resided there knows just what is expected. His farm on Clear Creek he has rented for the time being. Like all Emporium boys they are only going for a time and expect to return.

George Guinn and family departed on Monday for eastern parts of the State to visit relatives for a few days, after which they will leave for Westboro, Wis., where Mr. Guinn has been transfered by C. B. Howard Company. Mr. Guinn was one of the firm's most reliable men at this place, having charge of their large store which does an immense business. They are esteemed highly by our citizens, having been prominent workers in the Presbyterian Church. They will be missed.

Robt. L. Hicks and A. S. Hicks, of Dents Run, visited Emporium on Tuesday and transacted business. Hicks Run will be a lively place for the next ten years, on account of the lumbering operations just commenced by John E. DuBois. A large and modern mill has been erected and work has commenced on sixty dwelling houses. With the wiping out of this timber will close the last large tract of hemlock in Cameron county. Mr. A. S. Hicks informs us he has opened a general merchandise store and is ready for the rush. Hope he may may make a fortune. Both gentlemen were PRESS visitors and carried away a PRESS receipt. Call again.

Is It Right.

Is it right that a property-owner should lose $4.20 to let a dealer make 50 cents? A dealer makes more on fourteen gallons of ready for use paint, at $1.50 per gallon, than our agent does on eight gallons of L. & M. paint and six gallons of linseed oil, which make fourteen gallons of the best paint in the world, at $1.20 per gallon; the property-owner loses just $4.20. Is it right?

It only requires 4 gallons of L. & M., and 3 gallons linseed oil to paint a moderate sized house.

THE FLOWERS IN THE STREET.

The vender, with his grimy hands and face,
Called to the passerby his blossom wares,
Yet scarce a one would slacken in his pace;
All hurried by with cold, unseeing stares,
Until there came a man with weary eyes
Who paused and turned and saw each nodding bloom—
And then he saw a rose that once would rise
And tap against the window of his room.

The crowded street an instant seemed to fade
And blend into a quiet country lane,
With grass that mottled with each swaying shade
And flashed its thousand jewels after rain;
Again he felt the evening breezes rush
Up from the meadows bringing scented freight
That spiced the air at twilight's soothing hush—
The odor of the roses by the gate.

And people, restless, hastening, went by,
And jostled him while thoughtfully he stood—
They did not know he saw again the sky
That bent to dream above the distant wood;
They could not know that for him there was no street,
No houses and no heedless, racing throng,
That in his ears rang only murmurs sweet—
The cadence of some old rose scented song.

The magic of the roses! For, to him,
Reality was for the moment spread
Before him in what was a vision dim—
And then he saw the crowded street, instead.
He laughed a saddened laugh, and then he took
The roses from the vender's grimy hand
And thanked him, with a strange, delighted look—
A look the vender could not understand.

D'ri and I

By IRVING BACHELLER

Author of "Eben Holden," "Darrel of the Blessed Isles," Etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by Lothrop Publishing Company.)

CHAPTER XVII.—CONTINUED.

We were all crying, we poor devils that were left behind. One, a mere boy, stood near me swinging his hat above his head, cheering. Hat and hand fell to the deck as I turned to him. He was reeling, when D'ri caught him quickly with his good arm and bore him to the cockpit.

The little boat was barely a length off when a heavy shot fell splashing in her wake. Soon they were dropping all around her. One crossed her bow, ripping a long furrow in the sea. A chip flew off her stern; a lift of splinters from an oar scattered behind her. Plunging missiles marked her course with a plait of foam, but she rode on bravely. We saw her groping under the smoke clouds; we saw her nearing the other brig, and were all on tiptoe. The air cleared a little, and we could see them ship oars and go up the side. Then we set our blood dripping with cheers again, we who were wounded on the deck of the Lawrence. Lieut. Yarnell ordered her one flag down. As it sank fluttering, we groaned. Our dismay went quickly from man to man. Presently we could hear the cries of the wounded there below. A man came staggering out of the cockpit, and fell to his hands and knees, creeping toward us and protesting fiercely, the blood dripping from his mouth between curses.

"Another shot would sink her," Yarnell shouted.

"Let 'er sink, d—n 'er," said D'ri. "Wish t' God I c'ud put my foot through 'er bottom. When the flag goes down I wan' t' go tew."

The British turned their guns; we were no longer in the smoky paths of thundering canister. The Niagara was now under fire. We could see the dogs of war rushing at her in leashes of flame and smoke. Our little gunboats, urged by oar and sweep, were hastening to the battle front. We could see their men, waist-high above the bulwarks, firing as they came. The Detroit and the Queen Charlotte, two heavy brigs of the British line, had run afoul of each other. The Niagara, signalling for close action, bore down upon them. Crossing the bow of one ship and the stern of the other, she raked them with broadsides. We saw braces fly and masts fall in the volley. The Niagara sheered off, pouring shoals of metal on a British schooner, stripping her bare. Our little boats had come up, and were boring into the brigs. In a brief time—it was then near three o'clock—a white flag, at the end of a boarding-pike, fluttered over a British deck. D'ri, who had been sitting awhile, was now up and cheering as he waved his crownless hat. He had lent his flag, and, in the flurry, some one dropped it overboard. D'ri saw it fall, and before we could stop him he had leaped into the sea. I hastened to his help, tossing a rope's end as he came up, swimming with one arm, the flag in his teeth. I towed him to the landing-stair and helped him over. Leaning on my shoulder, he shook out the tattered flag, its white laced with his own blood.

"Ready t' jump in hell fer thet ol' rag any day," said he, as we all cheered him.

Each grabbed a tatter of the good flag, pressing hard upon D'ri and put it to his lips and kissed it proudly. Then we marched up and down, D'ri waving it above us—a bloody squad as ever walked, shouting loudly. D'ri had begun to weaken with loss of blood, so I coaxed him to go below with me.

The battle was over; a Yankee band was playing near by.

"Perry is coming! Perry is coming!" we heard them shouting above.

A feeble cry that had in it pride and joy and inextinguishable devotion passed many a fevered lip in the cockpit.

There were those near who had won a better peace, and they lay as a man that listens to what were now the merest mockery.

Perry came, when the sun was low, with a number of British officers, and received their surrender on his own bloody deck. I remember, as they stood by the ruined bulwarks and looked down upon tokens of wreck and slaughter, a dog began howling dismally in the cockpit.

CHAPTER XVIII.

It was a lucky and a stubborn sea-fight. More blood to the number I never saw than fell on the Lawrence; 83 of our 102 men having been killed or laid up for repair. One has to search a bit for record of a more wicked fire. But we deserve not all the glory some histories have bestowed, for we had a larger fleet and better, if fewer, guns. It was, however, a thing to be proud of, that victory of the young captain. Our men, of whom many were raw recruits—farmers and woodsmen—stood to their work with splendid valor, and, for us in the north, it came near being decisive. D'ri and I were so put out of business that no part of the glory was ours, albeit we were praised in orders for valor under fire. But for each I say we had never less pride of ourselves in any affair we had had to do with. Well, as I have said before, we were at our best with a saber, and big guns were out of our line.

We went into hospital awhile, D'ri having caught cold and gone out of his head with fever. We had need of a spell on our backs for what with all our steeplechasing over yawning graves—that is the way I always think of it—we were somewhat out of breath. No news had reached me of the count or the young ladies, and I took some worry to bed with me, but was up in a week and ready for more trouble. I had to sit with D'ri awhile before he could mount a horse.

September was nearing its last day when we got off a brig at the Harbor. We were no sooner at the dock than some one began to tell us of a new plan for the invasion of Canada. I knew Brown had had no part in it, for he said in my hearing once that it was too big a chunk to bite off.

There were letters from the count and Therese, his daughter. They had news for me, and would I not ride over as soon as I returned? My mother—dearest and best of mothers—had written me, and her tenderness cut me like a sword for the way I had neglected her. Well, it is ever so with a young man whose heart has found a new queen. I took the missive with wet eyes to our good farmer-general of the north. He read it, and spoke with feeling of his own mother gone to her long rest.

"Bell," said he, "you are worn out. After mess in the morning mount your horses, you and the corporal, and go and visit them. Report here for duty on October 16."

Then, as ever after a kindness, he renewed his quid of tobacco, turning quickly to the littered desk at headquarters.

We mounted our own horses a fine, frosty morning. The white earth glimmered in the first touch of sunlight. All the fairy lanterns of the frost king, hanging in the stubble and the dead grass, glowed a brief time, flickered faintly, and went out. Then the brown sward lay bare, save in the shadows of rock or hill or forest that were still white. A great glory had fallen over the far-reaching woods. Looking down a long valley, we could see towers of evergreen, terraces of red and brown, golden steeple-tops, gilded domes minareted with lavender and purple and draped with scarlet banners. It seemed as if the trees were shriving after all the green riot of summer, and making ready for sackcloth and ashes. Some stood trembling, and as if drenched in their own blood. Now and then a head was bare and bent, and naked arms were lifted high, as if to implore mercy.

"Fine air," said I, breathing deep as we rode on slowly.

"'T is sart'n," said D'ri. "Mother used t' say 'at the frost wus only the breath o' angels, an' when it melted it gin us a leetle o' the the air o' heaven."

Of earth or heaven, it quickened us all with new life. The horses fretted for their heads, and went off at a gallop, needing no cluck or spur. We pulled up at the chateau well before the luncheon hour. D'ri took the horses, and I was shown to the library, where the count came shortly, to give me hearty welcome.

"And what of the captives?" I inquired, our greeting over.

"Alas! it is terrible; they have not returned," said he, "and I am in great trouble, for I have not written to France of their peril. Dieu! I hoped they would be soon released. They are well and now we have good news. Eh bien, we hope to see them soon. But of that Therese shall tell you. And you have had a terrible time on Lake Erie?"

He had read of the battle, but wanted my view of it. I told the story of the Lawrence and Perry; of what D'ri and I had hoped to do, and of what had been done to us. My account of D'ri—his droll comment, his valor, his misfortune—touched and tickled the count. He laughed, he clapped his hands, he shed tears of enthusiasm; then he rang a bell.

"The M'sieur D'ri—bring him here," said he to a servant.

D'ri came soon with a worried look, his trousers caught on his boot-tops, an old felt hat in his hand. Somehow he and the hat were as king and coronal in their mutual fitness; if he lost one, he swapped for another of about the same shade and shape. His brows were lifted, his eyes wide open with watchful timidity. The count had opened a leather case and taken out of it a shiny disk of silver. He stepped to D'ri, and fastened it upon his waistcoat.

"'Pour la valeur eprouvee—de l'Empereur,'" said he, reading the inscription as he clapped him on the shoulder. "It was given to a soldier for bravery at Austerlitz by the great Napoleon," said he. "And, God rest him! the soldier he died of his wounds. And to me he left the medal in trust for some man, the most brave, intrepid, honorable. M'sieur D'ri, I have the pleasure to put it where it belongs."

D'ri shifted his weight, looking down at the medal and blushing like a boy.

"Much obleeged," he said presently. "Dunno but mebbe I better put it 'n my wallet. 'Fraid I 'll lose it off o' there."

He threw at me a glance of inquiry.

"No," said I, "do not bury your honors in a wallet."

He bowed stiffly, and, as he looked down at the medal, went away, spurs clattering.

Therese came in presently, her face full of vivacity and color.

"M'sieur le Capitaine," said she, "we are going for a little ride, the marquis and I. Will you come with us? You shall have the best horse in the stable."

"And you my best thanks for the honor," I said.

Our horses came up presently, and we all made off at a quick gallop. The forest avenues were now aglow and filled with hazy sunlight as with a flood, through which yellow leaves were slowly sinking. Our horses went to their fetlocks in the golden drift. The marquis rode on at a rapid pace, but soon Therese pulled rein, I keeping abreast of her.

"You have news for me, ma'm'selle?" I remarked.

"Indeed, I have much news," said she, as always, in French. "I was afraid you were not coming in time, m'sieur."

She took a dainty letter from her bosom, passing it to me.

My old passion flashed up as I took the perfumed sheets. I felt my heart quicken, my face burn with it. I was to have good news at last of those I loved better than my life, those I had not forgotten a moment in all the peril of war. I saw the handwriting of Louison and then a vision of her—the large eyes, the supple, splendid figure, the queenly bearing. It read:—

My Dear Therese: At last they promise to return us to you on the 12th of October. You are to send two men for us—not more—to the head of Eagle island, off Ste. Roche, in the St. Lawrence, with canoes, at ten o'clock in the evening of that day. They will find a lantern hanging on a tree at the place we are to meet them. We may be delayed a little, but they are to wait for us there. And, as you love me, see that one is my brave captain—I do not care about the other who comes. First of all I wish to see my emperor, my love, the tall, handsome and gallant youngster who has won me. What a finish for this odd romance if he only comes! And then I do wish to see you, the count, and the others. I read your note with such a pleasure! You are sure that he loves me? And that he does not know that I love him? I do not wish him to know, to suspect, until he has asked me to be his queen—until he has a right to know. Once he has my secret, love is robbed of his best treasure. Mon Dieu! I wish to tell him myself, some time, if he ever has the courage to take command of me. I warn you, Therese, if I think he knows—when I see him—I shall be cruel to him; I shall make him hate me. So you see I will not be cheated of my wooing, and I know you would not endanger my life's happiness. I have written a little song—for him. Well, some day I shall sing it to him, and will he not be glad to know I could do it? Here are the first lines to give you the idea:

My emperor! my emperor!
Thy face is fair to see;
Thy house is old, thy heart is gold,
Oh, take command of me!

O emperor! my emperor!
Thy sceptre is of God;
Through all my days I'll sing thy praise,
And tremble at thy nod.

But, Dear Therese, you ought to hear the music; I have quite surprised myself. Indeed, love is a grand thing; it has made me nobler and stronger. They really say I am not selfish any more. But I am weary of waiting here, and so eager to get home. You are in love, and you have been through this counting of the hours. We are very comfortable here, and they let us go and come as we like inside the high walls. I have told you there is a big, big grove and garden.

We saw nothing of 'his lordship' for weeks until three days ago, when they brought him here wounded. That is the reason we could not send you a letter before now. You know he has to see them all and arrange for their delivery. Well, he sent for Louise that day he came. She went to him badly frightened, poor thing! as, indeed, we all were. He lay in bed helpless, and wept when he saw her. She came back crying, and would not tell what he had said. I do think he loves her very dearly, and somehow we are all beginning to think better of him. Surely no one could be more courteous and gallant. Louise went to help nurse him yesterday, dear, sweet little mother! Then he told her the good news of our coming release, where your men would meet us, and all as I have written. He is up in his chair to-day, the maid tells me. I joked Louise about him this morning, and she began to cry at once, and said her heart was not hers to give. The sly thing! I wonder whom she loves; but she would say no more, and has had a long face all day. She is so stubborn! I have sworn I will never tell her another of my secrets. You are to answer quickly, sending your note by courier to the Indian dockman at Elizabethport, addressed Robin Adair, Box 40, St. Hillere, Canada. And the love of all to all. Adieu.

Your loving
LOUISON.

P. S. Can you tell me, is the captain of noble birth? I have never had any doubt of it, he is so splendid.

It filled me with a great happiness and a bitter pang. I was never in such a conflict of emotion.

"Well," said Therese, "do you see my trouble? Having shown you the first letter, I had also to show you the second. I fear I have done wrong. My soul—"

"Be blessed for the good tidings," I interrupted.

"Thanks. I was going to say it accuses me. Louison is a proud girl; she must never know. She can never know unless—"

"You tell her," said I, quickly. "And of course you will."

"What do you mean?" she asked.

"That every secret that must not be told is the same as published if—if—"

"If what?"

"If—if it tells a pretty story with some love in it," I said, with a quick sense of caution. "Ah, ma'm'selle, do I not know what has made your lips so red?"

"What may it be?"

"The attrition of many secrets—burning secrets," I said, laughing.

"Mordieu! what charming impudence!" she said, her large eyes glowing thoughtfully, with some look of surprise. "You do not know me, m'sieur. I have kept many secrets and know the trick."

"Ah, then I shall ask of you a great favor," said I—"that you keep my secret also, that you do not tell her of my love."

She wheeled her horse with a merry peal of laughter, hiding her face, now red as her glove.

"It is too late," said she. "I have written her."

We rode on, laughing. In spite of the serious character of her words, I fell a-quaking from crown to stirrup. I was now engaged to Louison, or as good as that, and, being a man of honor, I must think no more of her sister.

"I wrote her of your confession," said she, "for I knew it would make her so happy; but, you know, I did not tell of—of the circumstances."

"Well, it will make it all the easier for me," I said. "Ma'm'selle, I assure you—I am not sorry."

"And, my friend, you are lucky: she is so magnificent."

"Her face will be a study when I tell her."

"The splendor of it!" said she.

"And the surprise," I added, laughing.

"Ah, m'sieur, she will play her part well. She is clever. That moment when the true love comes and claims her it is the sweetest in a woman's life."

[To Be Continued.]

Three of a Kind.

The Archbishop of Canterbury was talking about the English court dress. "The knee breeches, the silk stockings, and the slender court sword," he said, "make a graceful costume, a costume becoming to all, save the unduly thin. There is talk of making the court dress the universal evening costume, but before this is done a great tumult of opposition will go up from the lean. Knee breeches, you see, set ill upon thin legs. They even bring down ridicule upon the wearers. Thus: A young city man, tall and slender, appeared for the first time before his aunt in court dress. The aunt looked at him critically. She studied his knee breeches, his court sword, his silk and their contents. Finally, with a loud laugh, she said: 'Pray tell me, my dear Edward, have you got three legs or three swords?'"—Buffalo Courier.

The Countryman Again.

Edale is a primitive village in the midmost valley of "The Peak," in Derbyshire. Fifty years ago, long before the Midland railway built its Dore and Chinley line, a rustic from Edale was so adventurous as to make a journey to Sheffield, about 20 miles distant. When he set off to return it was raining hard, and his host lent him an umbrella, and opened it. He had never seen an umbrella before. A fortnight afterwards this man of Edale was seen to return in the finest possible weather, but with the umbrella still up. "Why," he explained, "we had a pack o, trouble wi' un, there wasn't a doorway in the village we could get 'un through, so we tethered 'un in a field!"—Smith's Weekly.

How It Originated.

"I wonder who originated the custom of eating fish on Friday?" asked the inquisitive person.

"Robinson Crusoe, I believe," answered the wise guy.

"What's the explanation?" asked the i. p.

"Robinson and his man Friday were playing a game of seven-up one day, with the understanding that the loser was to supply a mess of fish for dinner," answered the w. g. "Robinson won the game, so the fish were on Friday."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MEDICAL MENTION.

Ten beats of a healthy pulse are equal to nine seconds.

Color blindness is, curiously enough, found mainly among the educated classes, of whom no fewer than four per cent. have this defect.

According to a doctor the voices of singers and actors can be much better preserved if used in theaters lighted by electricity rather than by gas.

In 1877 only six per cent. of British children were unvaccinated. Now the proportion of abstension from infantile vaccination has risen to 34 per cent. in towns and 25 per cent. in country districts.

Dr. William Henry, an English physician, states as a result of experiments that in all forms of animal life, insects included, exists the taste for alcohol. He says that fishes are the only real "teetotalers" in creation.

"The statistics of last year," declared Dr. Edward Martin, director of the department of public health and charities of Philadelphia, "showed 3,052 deaths from tuberculosis, and 3,191 deaths from pneumonia. They show also while tuberculosis is decreasing, pneumonia is increasing. It is of the utmost importance that the public becomes aroused to a realization of the gravity of the situation and that it be advised how to protect itself."

MISS BULL RECOVERS

FEARFUL DECLINE OF STRENGTH COMPLETELY ARRESTED.

Medical Skill Had Almost Exhausted Itself in Vain Attempts to Relieve Her—A Remarkable Result.

The recovery of Miss Gertrude L. Bull is of great interest to the medical world. A very bad cough followed a severe attack of pneumonia. It seemed impossible to break it up or to restore her strength, which had been sadly undermined. In spite of the best efforts of the doctors and the use of several advertised modes of treatment her condition daily grew more serious. She finally discontinued all medicine and gave herself up to despair.

"What was your condition at this time?" she was asked.

"My stomach was so weak I could not keep food down. I suffered from constant nausea. My kidneys were in terrible condition. My feet and ankles were swollen so badly that it pained me even to stand on them. I was very bilious. My heart was in bad shape so I could not go up and down stairs or stand any exertion or sleep in a natural position."

"It seems a wonder that you should ever have recovered. How did it happen?"

"You may well call it a marvel, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills wrought it. None of my friends thought I could live many months longer. My parents had no hope. Just then a pamphlet advertising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People was thrown in our door. It was a great event for me. These pills saved me from the grave. Within a week from the time I began to take them I felt better, and in three months I was entirely well. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly and I dearly hope that my experience may bring good to some other sufferers."

Miss Bull, who was so remarkably cured, resides at Union Grove, Illinois. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act immediately on the blood, purifying and enriching it. In all debilitating diseases, such as lung troubles, grip, fevers, and in all cases in which the system is thoroughly run down, these pills perform wonders. They are sold by all druggists throughout the world. A valuable booklet on diseases of the blood, will be sent free to any one who applies for it to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Chance for Another Guess.

A guest who went to pay his bill not long since at a fashionable Florida hotel, was given a statement which showed him indebted to the house to the extent of $124. As he had been there only four days, and had had few extras, he thought it a little steep, but he never flinched. Opening up a fat roll, he extended a huge bunch of bills to the cashier, with the remark: "Guess again. I've got more money than that."—Washington Post.

RESTORED HIS HAIR.

Scalp Humour Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment After All Else Had Failed.

"I was troubled with a severe scalp humor and loss of hair that gave me a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience. After unsuccessful efforts with many remedies and so-called hair tonics, a friend induced me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The humor was cured in a short time, my hair was restored as healthy as ever, and I can gladly say I have since been entirely free from any further annoyance. I shall always use Cuticura Soap, and I keep the Ointment on hand to use as a dressing for the hair and scalp. (Signed) Fred'k Busche, 213 East 57th St., New York City."

Rheumatism

is a dread malady. It cripples many thousands each year, and in many cases it is little short of a lingering death. The new remedy—Pusheck's Kuro—is accomplishing many marvelous cures, and even the most obstinate cases yield to this medicine. Inflammatory, muscular or joint rheumatism can receive no treatment equal to Pusheck's-Kuro. You will notice an almost instant improvement. At most druggists or direct from Dr. C. Pusheck, Chicago, upon receipt of $1. Write for illustrated book.

A 480 ACRE FARM YIELDS 25 PER CENT. PROFIT A YEAR.

What a Mercer County (Ohio) Farmer Received from One Year's Crop.

Extracts from an interesting letter from P. H. Rynhard, of Starbuck, Manitoba, Canada, gives an excellent idea of the prosperity of those who have gone from the United States to Canada. He says:

"I bought, August, 1903, 480 acres of land, paying $12,000 for it. We threshed 2,973 bushels of wheat and between 1,200 and 1,300 bushels of oats and barley from 200 acres. But part of the wheat went down before filling, and was not harvested except for hay. The crop was worth at threshing time $3,000. Besides 120 acres laying idle, except a timothy meadow, which is not included in this estimate. Counting the value of the product and the increase of value of land will pay me more than 25 per cent. on the investment. Two brothers in the same neighborhood bought 160 acres each six years ago. They have not done a single thing to this land except to fence it and break and cultivate about one-half of it. Harvested last year 28 bushels wheat per acre. This year 27 bushels per acre. They can get any day $25 per acre. These are only a few of many hundreds of such chances. It looks like boasting, but truth is justifiable, and the world ought to know it, especially the home-seeker. I know of quite a few farmers that have made fortunes in from 10 to 20 years, retired with from $20,000 to $100,000.

Writing concerning another district in the Canadian West, S. L. Short says:

"Dear Sir:—I have to inform you that I have just returned from the Carrot River Country in Saskatchewan, where I located land of the very finest black vegetable loam, which I am proud of, and will move in the spring. Farmers are still plowing there. A mild climate and beautiful country to behold. Cattle are fat and running outside. Wood and water good. Saw oats weighing 42 pounds to bushel. Potatoes large and well ripened; also wheat that brought there 82 cents. The country exceeded my expectations. Saw oats in stock, thicker on the ground than appears in many of the illustrations sent out in descriptive pamphlets. I have been in many western states, but the soil excels any I ever saw."

The Canadian Government Agents at different points report that the inquiries for literature and railroad rates, etc., to Western Canada are the greatest in the history of their work.

No Practice.

He—It is hard to keep a secret sometimes, isn't it?

She—I don't know; I've never tried it.—The Royal.

Effects of Prosperity.

In the six years of the country's greatest prosperity, from 1897 to 1903, average prices of breadstuffs advanced 65 per cent., meats 23.1 per cent., dairy and garden products 50.1 per cent. and clothing 24.1. All these were products of the farmer and stockman who profited more than any other class of the community by these advances. The miner benefited 42.1 per cent. by that advance in the average price of metals. The only decrease in the average prices of commodities in that period was in railway freight rates, which decreased from .798 per ton-mile in 1897 to .763 in 1903, a loss of 4.4 per cent. The report of the Interstate Commerce Commission shows that the average increase in the pay of railroad employes in that period was a trifle above 8.5 per cent.

A CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD

Stanley Francis, a Director of the Storey Cotton Co., Is Remanded for Trial.

Philadelphia, April 1.—On the testimony of two former employes of the defunct Storey Cotton Co., Stanley Francis, accused of being one of the promoters and directors of the concern, was yesterday remanded for trial by United States Commissioner Craig with bail fixed at $50,000.

The original charge against Francis was using the mails for fraudulent purposes and he was arrested at the instigation of the postal authorities.

The two important witnesses against the accused man were Miss Margaret Hope, a stenographer, and Miss Gertrude Sundheim, a bookkeeper, who gave testimony which the commissioner held to be sufficient to convince him that the defendant was party to a conspiracy to defraud.

A statement of the concern's business showing assets of $700,000 was produced by District Attorney Thompson and, after examining it, the witness said there was nothing on the cash book to show such assets. The book did show, however, that the company had lost $1,178,417, but there was no indication that this sum was lost in cotton transactions.

DUN'S BUSINESS BULLETIN

Trade Returns Very Satisfactory—Iron and Steel Trade Prosperous.

New York, April 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Trade returns are increasingly satisfactory, continued high temperature accelerating distribution in all leading lines. The closing days of March brought greater confidence regarding the future, and results for the first quarter of 1905 proved even more favorable than was anticipated when the year opened.

Reports from the south indicate that the period of hesitation is about over and agricultural sections are stimulated by prospects of a good season for planting.

A steady demand is noted in all departments of the iron and steel industry, orders constantly coming forward, and most plants are assured of activity for many months, while some mills decline contracts for shipment any time before 1906.

Failures this week numbered 244 in the United States, against 208 last year, and 33 in Canada, compared with 16 a year ago.

The Packers Show Fight.

Chicago, April 1.—Threatened indictments against persons connected with the big meat packing industries failed to materialize yesterday. Indications now are that the grand jury, for the present at least, will be content with listening to a continuation of evidence. Instead of further indictments being returned, it is said that the attorneys for the packers will force the issue in the indictment already returned against T. J. Connors, general superintendent for Armour & Co. Eight witnesses were heard by the grand jury Friday and the proceedings seemed to be running with a great deal more smoothness than heretofore. Five of the eight witnesses were men employed by Swift & Co. in Swift's Chicago plant.

Admits a Shortage of $8,500.

Boston, April 1.—Charged with the larceny of $8,500 from the estate of which he has been trustee for over ten years, Charles M. Reed, a lawyer, 60 years old, was arrested Friday and held at the city prison in default of $10,000 bail. Reed was trustee of the Samuel W. Cushing estate at Kingston, valued at between $55,000 and $60,000. His arrest was brought about at the request of the Bankers' Surety Co., which furnished surety for him when he assumed charge of the estate. Reed collapsed when taken into custody and, according to the police, admitted the shortage.

Both Shot to Kill.

Malone, N. Y., April 1.—Summer Hazen, a bridegroom of a week, and John Hall, his wife's brother, are dead as the result of an exchange of pistol shots at Hall's home Thursday night. When Hall learned that Hazen and his sister were to be married he warned Hazen that he would prevent the ceremony. Nothing came of the threat and the newly married couple started for a visit to the bride's brother's home. They had hardly crossed the threshold before Hall drew a revolver and sent a bullet into Hazen's body. As Hazen fell he returned the shot.

Photographer was Blown to Pieces.

Omaha, Neb., April 1.—As a result of the explosion of a flashlight photograph apparatus here Friday one man is dead and another badly injured. Preparations were being made by an unknown person to take a flashlight photograph of a saloon, when without warning the apparatus exploded and fragments of the photographer's body were blown in all directions. William Murray, a bystander, was seriously cut about the head. The saloon building was wrecked by the explosion.

Japs' Army Again Advances.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—News from the front indicates that Field Marshal Oyama has begun a genuine advance of his main army, with wings far extended. Heavy reconnaisances are being made against the Russian center.

Expects a Great Epidemic.

New York, April 1.—Before the present year is over, according to Health Commissioner Darlington, New York will be visited by a great epidemic of measles, perhaps the greatest in its history. The commissioner says there will probably be 20,000 cases.

Wreck was Fatal to Three.

Dickinson, N. D., April 1.—Patrick Riley, a traveling salesman; Herb Doty, of Bowling Green, O., and David Simons, of Montana, were killed in a stock train wreck near Medora, on the Northern Pacific road.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Albert J. Weston, of Cleveland, O., says: "I have used your Castoria in my practice for the past eighteen years with the utmost success."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored

LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee.

Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3 DON'TS (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. Don't use water that has been boiled before.

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.)

(Lion-head on every package.)

(Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

A man severely injured was found at the east end of the P. & E. R. R., bridge, Tuesday morning, by Frank Fisher, engineer for the American Wood Mill Co. Mr. Fisher heard moans near the bridge and upon investigating, found a man lying at the foot of the abutment in an unconscious condition. Assistance was called and the man was taken under cover. Dr. Russell and Overseer of the Poor Israel Bailey were called and after an investigation, Constable Crum took charge of the man and accompanied him to the Williamsport Hospital, where he recovered sufficient to tell his name, which he gave as Frank Conlin. He was unable,however,to tell where he came from or how he got hurt, but from appearances he fell from a west-bound train. He is about thirty yasrs old. A bottle of medicine found in his pocket was labeled by a Snow Shoe druggist. Blood spots on the abutment was evidence of his striking there before falling to the ground.

J. H. Hanscom of this place moved to Lock Haven Wednesday, where he owns a property and where he will make his future home. Mr. Hanscom himself will stay at Sinnamahoning this summer.

FIRST FORK.

Barclay Bros. have their logs to the pond and now sawing will commence. They have another drive with the rear at Muley Run, for next flood. They have another season's operations on the stream, but not so extensive as in former years.

M. J. Colcord of Potter Journal was in to see his father one day last week, who has been quite poorly all spring but is now on the mend.

Several parties have been having the grippe, among whom we mention Miss Clella Logue, Fred Williams and Yours Truly, but they have all recovered or in a fair way to do so.

J. M. Brooks expects to move his family to the new brick works at Cameron, where he has found steady employment.

Our farmers are plowing and getting ready for a new crop of potatoes, notwithstanding the slump in prices of the old crop. Most of them have disposed of the old crop at prices below the half dollar mark.

Although March was a cold month it had one day last week that "busted the record," mercury reaching 84°.

Messrs. Oscar Card, Bert Walker and Ira Barclay of Wharton, were down on a business trip on Saturday.

W. M. Curriers mill crew are expected here any day now to start sawing out their two seasons crop of logs.

A. D. Felson has returned from Court and auditor business at Wharton, and is going to run the P. O. and store at this place.

Martin Bowen is still on crutches, though gaining slowly.

J. P. Hurlbert of Lushbaugh was called to Coudersport on Saturday on account of the serious illness of his mother.

NUFF SED.

CAMERON.

Wm. Gallagher employed by the Calder Brick Co., slipped on the hod pan at the brick works and broke his nose, Monday morning. He will be unable to work for some time to come.

Daniel Sullivan has accepted a position as assistant section foreman for the Emporium Coal Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wykoff and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Niles have moved from Square Timber Run to Cameron.

Mrs. Frank Johnson was taken to the Williamsport Hospital on Thursday last and underwent an operation on Friday. Latest advices say she is improving and her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. H. Dotterweich, of Olean spent Sunday with friends at the Valley House.

Mrs. John McFadden spent Monday with her sister in Emporium.

Mrs. Patrick Farrel and Mrs. John Mack are visiting their mother, Mrs. Daniel Sullivan.

Miss Celia Gilmartin, of Sterling Run spent Sunday with Miss Mamie Cassidy.

W. D. Moore, of Emporium, passed through town Sunday with a splendid gray team consigned to S. C. Skillman of Square Timber Run,

MRS. HALL'S MIRACLE.

Experiences Similar to This Have Occasioned Considerable Comment in Emporium.

Few women are better known in Lockport, N. Y., that Mrs. Pattie D. Hall, as she belongs to one of the bests families and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. In a recent interview Mrs. Hall said:

"The experience I have been through in the last two years seems like a miracle. I was so badly off that life seemed almost unendurable, and my deafness increased so that I could scarcely hear anything. The suffocation in my chest and the indigestion caused by my catarrh, produced very severe suffering, I had five different physicians, bought everything that anybody recommended to me, but finally gave up in dispair.

"One day my milliner asked me if I had ever tried Hyomei. I began the treatment, and can thankfully testify that Hyomei dose cure this terrible disease. Since using it my hearing is greatly improved, and the only time I have any catarrhal trouble is when I take cold. I then use Hyomei, and always get instant relief. My friends and acquaintances marvel at the change in my health and hearing."

Hyomei has made many cures of catarrh, and in connection with Hyomei balm, of catarrhal deafness, in Emporium. Similar experiences to that of Mrs. Hall's have created a large sale for Hyomei with L. Taggart.

The complete outfit, including the inhaler, costs but $1., while extra bottles are but 50 cents. Ask L. Taggart to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells Hyomei.

A Serious Matter.

"The third dose of Thompson's Barosma made me feel like a different man. I suffered about a year with pain in back, side and groin. My hands, arms and side of face became numb; would wake up numb all over; have to get out of bed and go through gymnastic exercise to get sleep. I had decided to sell out my business but was cured by Thompson's Barosma. This was two years ago and I have been in perfect health ever since.—J. J. Borne, Titusville, Pa. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

The longer a man studies women the less he knows about them.

A Little Girl's Trouble.

My little girl, five years old, was doctored for several months for bladder trouble but without success. She was very bad and caused us much anxiety. Finally we put aside the doctors' medicines and tried Thompson's Barosma or Kidney and Liver cure. Five or six bottles made a complete cure and she is now a sound, healthy girl. N. F. Mothers and Daughters

Every woman who has a grown daughter knows well the worry and anxiety which always comes at that period of life when girlhood merges into womanhood. Upon a girl's condition at this time depends her future health, strength and happiness. Too much care can not be taken to see that she passes through this period safely.

AUNT DINAH'S OLD VIRGINIA
Herb Tea
A BOON TO WOMANKIND

is of the greatest assistance to nature in bringing about the change which takes place, without disarranging the natural functions of the system. It is a strengthening tonic. It will keep the roses in a girl's cheeks and prevent that tendency to decline which so often endangers her life at this critical point in development.

This Herb Tea is likewise of corresponding value and assistance to matrons and mothers at the end of this period. Its use will at this time prevent endless pain and worry. A woman will enter the evening of life with scarcely the knowledge that the change has occurred. Many are the thankful women who know the value of Aunt Dinah's Old Virginia Herb Tea and are grateful for the benefits derived from its use.

GREAT
Business Opportunities

The undersigned desires to dispose of some of his business establishments in Emporium, now doing a prosperous business. Not having time to devote the attentions I must sell.

I will dispose to the right party either my clothing stock and good-will, located next door to Bank, or my Merchant Tailoring store, near M. E. Church. With the latter I will sell the building, known as the old Masonic building, at a bargain. This is a good opportunity for a live business man, to engage in a well known and established trade.

A number of good lots for sale, located near my tailoring establishment, at low price. These lots are located in the centre of Emporium on Fourth Street, the Main business street.

We will talk business to only business men.
